On the 33rd floor of the Breeze Tower located in Nishi-Umeda, Osaka's historical neighborhood, Le Comptoir de Benoit invites guests on a culinary journey to experience the change of scenery offered by this quality French cuisine. It's because he is so passionate about the city's culinary tradition, the quality of the local produce and the prevalent passion for good food that is deeply rooted there, that Alain Ducasse decided to open Le Comptoir de Benoit in Osaka in 2008. Fine bistro cuisine, generous and straightforward, that pays tribute to the diversity of Osaka produce.

Historic Royal Palaces
Kew Palace

20% off standard adult, child, concession and family entry prices to Kew Palace.

Intimate Kew Palace was a much loved retreat for the 18th century royal family, but it is most famously known as home to 'mad' King George III. Learn about the King's illness and how he was cared for. Explore the rooms that have remained untouched for almost two centuries, since the death of Queen Charlotte at this smallest of royal palaces. Visit the Queen's cottage, hidden within Kew Gardens, where the royal family would meet for picnics and afternoon teas. Plus see the Georgian Kitchens, miraculously preserved and now restored to their former glory. Step back 200 years into the busy working kitchens on the day that King George was given back his knife and fork, confiscated to protect him from his 'madness'.

The Sixth Floor Museum at Dealey Plaza, located on the sixth and seventh floors of the former Texas School Book Depository, chronicles the assassination and legacy of President John F. Kennedy; interprets the Dealey Plaza National Historic Landmark District and the John F. Kennedy Memorial Plaza; and presents contemporary culture within the context of presidential history. The permanent exhibition, "John F. Kennedy and the Memory of a Nation", features hundreds of photographs, documentary films and artifacts from the early 1960's documenting the events of November 22-25, 1963, the world's response to President Kennedy's assassination, major investigations, and President Kennedy's legacy. Two areas on the sixth floor are recreated to appear as they did in 1963: the sniper's perch in the southeast corner, and the staircase in the northwest corner where a rifle and clipboard were found. The permanent exhibit also includes original cameras used by assassination witnesses and the FBI model of Dealey Plaza used during the Warren Commission investigation.

Special exhibitions, events and public programs are held in the seventh floor gallery.

See Traitors' Gate where Queen Anne Boleyn entered the Tower for the last time; visit the site of her execution at the hands of a French Swordsman and the chapel where she is buried. Join the famous Yeoman Warders' (known as 'Beefeaters') tours to hear their tales of torture and treachery, and see the graffiti scratched on walls by the Tower's prisoners. Among the beautiful castles that bloom in the Loire Valley, Marçay is a place that fosters the art of living on the land that Rabelais liked to call "the garden of France." Its restoration preserves the original architectural features of this beautiful edifice of the fifteenth century, where today's comfort blends harmoniously, decorated in wood paneling. In addition, the bedrooms open on a private meadow. The wooded area reveals the happiness of a pool, a truffle and a stunning garden that inspired the chef, very committed to the development of products of its soil.

Between Cannes and Aix-en-Provence, the Hostellerie is the former priory of a 12th century Benedictine abbey. The terrace in the shade of chestnut trees, the grounds with the tall cypress trees and the kitchen garden watered by the stream flowing down the mountain create a serene atmosphere conducive to rest and relaxation. After close to five centuries, the former food storehouse, representing the military citadel's last stronghold and a highlight of Metz architecture, was converted into a stupendous hosting venue. Contemporary decor using noble materials has truly enhanced this imposing building. The sober design blends to perfection with the soaring lines, instantly conveying a sense of elation. Located inside a tree-lined park, close to the old historical centre of Metz, the Citadelle cultivates the luxury that comes from wellness, intimacy and gastronomy. Christophe Dufossé deftly blends classicism with innovation, homespun victuals with the most refined fare, and local fields with distant islands.

Les Sables Blancs is located to the south of Quimper, with its feet in the water on the beautiful Concarneau beach with its fine sand. Guests are spoilt by the fully-appointed rooms and the stylish, resolutely contemporary design. This modern approach is a little unusual in this part of Brittany. Just like the bar with its splendid views of the disappearing horizon, or the "Lounge" restaurant with its subtle lighting; some of the rooms and suites have a terrace looking onto Beg Meil. What about leisure activities? Cooking lessons, walking along the shore, bike rides and the delightful sea. You won't want to leave.

Faithfully restored, this affluent family home offers an insight into the history of a sumptuous era when the mountain resort of Pau was at its most fashionable, at the end of the 19th century. The very British charm of the Villa Navarre is part of its timeless appeal. The spaciousness of the hotel is best appreciated in the lounges, the terrace that runs along the facade and the rooms. The views from the room windows are stunning, overlooking the grounds planted with rare species of trees and facing the Pyrenees. Deciding whether to head for the outdoor pool that shares the views or the cleverly designed fitness centre in the former wine cellar is a real dilemma.
